desert garden bistro

"The desert with its rim of arid mountains spotted like the leopard's skin or tattooed with the amazing patterns of creation is a 'Desert Garden' the likes of which in sheer beauty of space and pattern does not exist, I think, in the world." This quote from Frank Lloyd Wright in his 1935 journal regarding Arizona best expresses the impressive views the Santa Catalina Mountains inspire from the 36 foot arched window framing the back wall of the Desert Garden Bistro Restaurant. Six-tier levels occur between the main lobby and terrace dining on the outdoor patio overlooking the pools.

Our main dining room is open for breakfast, lunch and dinner and features colorful, trendy décor in a relaxing setting. Breathtaking views of the resort's pools and waterfall, as well as the Santa Catalina Mountains are easily visible indoors through the thirty-foot arched windows. Daily specials, seasonal specialties and a variety of trendy bistro-style entrees including Mediterranean, French, Italian and American specialties are available. Kids five and under eat free, with some restrictions.

Sunrise Drive is nationally acclaimed for its French-inspired southwestern cuisine. Janos has been Arizona's highest rated restaurant since 1983 and Janos Wilder, owner and executive chef, was winner of the James Beard Award for the "Best Chef in the Southwest" in 2000.

Janos incorporates a large variety of locally grown produce in his recipes along with the finest fresh seafood, veal, pork, lamb, beef and game flown in from around the world. The menu changes frequently to reflect the type of vegetables, fruits and lettuce growing seasonally. Janos has earned a reputation and worldwide acclaim by combining indigenous ingredients with French "nouvelle" training and classic cooking techniques to create extraordinary cuisine.

A complement to any great meal is a fine glass of wine. Janos has over 700 selections of domestic, new and Old World red wine vintages including an extensive variety of California Cabernets in the Wine Room. Another cooler is dedicated solely to a vast white wine collection. Over 30 wines are available by the glass as well as a significant number of fine wine half bottle selections.

Janos décor is a sophisticated blend of French and Spanish Colonial. The walls and floors are multi-painted in a southwestern-style to be warm and soothing. Janos is comprised of three interior dining rooms that accommodate groups from ten to 150 people - the Great Room, Red Room and Wine Room. Throughout the interior spaces are vivid colors, elegant silver wall sconces, contemporary artwork, and several windows that overlook intriguing desert landscape and the Tucson valley.

According to executive chef Serge Delage, Academie Culinaire de France, "what we do well is offer a restaurant dining experience within a banquet room. It sets us apart from our competitors." High standards of quality, flavor, presentation and atmosphere are important in achieving an outstanding dining experience. "We're big on flavor and, therefore, dish up last minute so the food is served fresh, hot and flavorful. We are able to accomplish this with excellent communication between the banquet and culinary staff." Again, from chef Delage, "what we do well is offer a restaurant dining experience within a banquet room. It sets us apart from our competitors." Using many different specialized cooking methods, including French, Spanish, German, or trendy New York style; we are able to create a personalized menu and an extraordinary culinary experience.
